Jonathan Harrison Director of Photography

Jonathan trained and worked as a Film Cameraman at the BBC Ealing Film Studios for thirteen years. Due to the varied formats and types of programme input at the BBC, he developed a truly unique and multi-faceted approach to shooting & lighting, with a contemporary and innovative style. He has presented Lighting Seminars all over the world using cutting edge, modern and Academy Award winning lighting tools, and now brings over twenty five years wealth of lighting experiences to the world of Digital Video Lighting. He is an award winning lighting cameraman currently shooting on location internationally.

for illustration purpose only

The workshop is meant to be a creative and informative session that will dramatically enhance your lighting and camera skill. Creating a believable illusion of 3D objects on a 2D screen is essential to quality pictures. Jonathan will show you how it is done effectively and quickly. Any cinematographer, video cameraman, lighting designer or still commercial photographer can gain valuable insights from this workshop.

The seminar will be conducted with life model and real equipment for you to see the actual results as it is being set-up.
